

DesignFlash

A briefing brought to you by Interiors & Sources

April 28, 2009

Home

Contact Us

The SOURCE

Video

CEUs

Featured Product

Make the most of the daylight. Draper offers IDCEC continuing education classes on Daylighting with Motorized Window Shades and Window Shade Fabric Selection.

advertisement

■ LEED 2009 to Include Regional Credits

These LEED credits encourage that specific regional environmental priorities be addressed when it comes to the design, construction and operations of buildings in different geographic locations.

■ Web Site Launched to Help Schools Specify Carpet

INVISTA recently announced the launch of antron.net/recovery, a site designed to help school facility managers identify and specify carpet for school renovations, as they look to utilize funding available through the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act.

■ HDR Signs 2030 Challenge

HDR Architecture Inc. recently signed the "Architecture 2030 Challenge," an initiative designed to achieve a dramatic reduction in the greenhouse gas emissions by changing the way buildings and developments are planned, designed and constructed.

■ CIDA Announces Scholarship Winners

The scholarship fund honoring long-time CIDA volunteer leader and interior designer Keith Hooks was established in his memory in 2008. Each junior-level student will receive $3,000 to use toward upcoming tuition at a CIDA-accredited interior design program.

GUEST COLUMNIST

■ A Sign of the Times

By Mitchell Sawasy

By offering enhanced communication and a more complete range of design services, practitioners can substantially improve relationships with potential clients and help themselves stand out from the competition.

Editors' Choice

The Hammok Collection is a seating group of guest, arm and lounge chairs from Leland International.